Catalogue to the “Dejudaization Institute” Exhibition Now in English Too

The English Edition of our Popular Catalogue Is Available at the Museum Shop and Online Starting Now

The English edition of the exhibition companion to the successful special exhibition “Erforschung und Beseitigung. Das kirchliche ‘Entjudungsinstitut’ 1939–1945” at the Lutherhaus Eisenach has been published in response to international demand: The translation of the expanded second German edition is entitled “Study and Eradication: The Church’s ‘Dejudaization Institute’, 1939–1945” and includes additional images and an updated select bibliography.

The catalogue can be purchased for € 10 at the Lutherhaus Eisenach during museum hours (presently, Wednesday through Sunday, 10 a.m.–5 p.m.) or ordered conveniently anytime from our online museum shop on www.lutherhaus-eisenach.com/museumsshop. The exhibition companion provides a concise and readable survey of the origins, activity and impact of the German Protestant churches’ anti-Semitic “Dejudaization Institute”, which existed from 1939 to 1945.

The Lutherhaus Eisenach is a museum of the Evangelical Church in Central Germany (EKM), a European cultural heritage site, and one of the most important sites of Reformation memory in Germany. Its permanent exhibition “Luther and the Bible” has won numerous awards. The Lutherhaus has additionally been treating the history of the church’s “Dejudaization Institute”, founded in Eisenach in 1939, since 2019. The highly regarded special exhibition about this dark chapter of church history runs until the end of 2021.
